ABOUT OUR PROGRAM

At American Medical Center, our team of physicians offer a personalized Occupational Health Program for busy workers in an efficient examination process.

Our focus is on health and resolving medical issues that affect the employees' well-being, providing companies with a healthy work force.

Our two in-house Medical Review Officers give you confidence that we are prepared for your employees, no matter how large your organization grows.

In addition, our convenient on-site services allow us to administer vaccinations or perform drug screenings to a group of employees at your workplace.
